1、2023 年 12 月英语四级作文真题

1) 邀请写一篇他们印象最深的校园事件

Directions: Suppose the university newspaper is inviting submissions from the students for its coming edition on a campus event that has impressed them most. You are now to write an essay for submission. You will have 30 minutes to write the essay. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

Dear Editorial Team,

I am a student of our school, and I want to write an article to write about what happened in our school a few days ago, which impressed us all deeply.

Last weekend, the Student Union of our school organized a very meaningful activity called The Movie Night. Students from all grades and majors watched a movie—Jane Eyre. Through this film, we met an inspirational woman. Jane was a poor orphan with an unhappy childhood, but her ingenuity stood out at Thornfield, where she worked as a governess. After watching the inspiring film, the Student Union organized a sharing meeting for the students, where we shared our opinions on the film. A freshman said that everyone can earn the respect of others if they have the courage to rely on themselves.

The students took an active part in this popular activity. The principal spoke highly of the event and also praised the enthusiasm of the students. Our students are looking forward to more such events.

Best regards,

Your Name

2) 邀请学生就他们家乡的最新发展向其投稿

Directions: Suppose the university newspaper is inviting submissions from the students for its coming edition on the recent developments in their hometown. You are now to write an essay for submission. You will have 30 minutes to write the essay. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

In the past decade, my hometown has transformed beyond recognition. Once a rural community, it is now a thriving hub of innovation and progress.

The changes are as follows. First, new enterprises have emerged, generating employment opportunities and injecting vitality into the town center. Second, the green spaces in my hometown have also undergone significant transformations as a result of government investments in tree planting initiatives, park creation, and overall enhancement of the local park system. These endeavors have not only elevated residents' quality of life but also enticed tourists, thereby bolstering the local economy. Furthermore, the educational system in my hometown has changed a lot. The establishment of new schools and expansion projects for existing ones has fostered an environment conducive to effective learning.

In conclusion, my hometown has transformed into a dynamic and thriving community. The changes have not only improved the quality of life but have also positioned the town as a viable option for businesses and families seeking a great place to live and work.

3) 邀请写一篇他们印象最深的校园事件

Directions: Suppose the university newspaper is inviting submissions from the students for its coming edition on what in their university impresses them most. You are now to write an essay for submission. You will have 30 minutes to write the essay. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

As a student at this esteemed university, I am continually awe-inspired by the institution's commitment to technological advancement. The campus serves as a hub for cutting-edge innovation, fostering an environment that encourages exploration and creativity.

One of the most impressive aspects is the state-of-the-art research facilities that empower students to engage in groundbreaking projects. From advanced laboratories to collaborative spaces equipped with the latest technology, our university provides the perfect breeding ground for intellectual curiosity. The seamless integration of virtual reality, artificial intelligence, and other emerging technologies not only enriches academic experiences but also prepares us for a future where innovation is paramount.

Moreover, the university's dedication to sustainability sets it apart. Solar panels, energy-efficient buildings, and eco-friendly initiatives showcase a commitment to environmental responsibility. The campus is not just a place of learning; it's a testament to our responsibility as stewards of the planet.

In conclusion, the fusion of cutting-edge technology and a commitment to sustainability makes our university a beacon of inspiration. This environment propels us, the students, towards excellence and prepares us to contribute meaningfully to a rapidly evolving world.

1) 关于在线课程意见

Directions: Suppose your university is conducting a survey to collect students' opinions of online classes. You are to write a response to the survey about their advantages and disadvantages, and what improvements can be made. You will have 30 minutes for the task. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

Recently, my university is conducting a survey to collect our opinions of online classes. I'm going to summarize the students' responses about the advantages and disadvantages of online courses, and give suggestions for improvement. Online courses have many obvious advantages.

关注公众号：英专生靓仔学长，回复关键词：四六级、专四专八、大英竞赛、领取历年真题、预测卷

First of all, online courses make our learning more convenient and flexible, allowing us to overcome the limitations of time and space. In addition, through online courses, we have access to many quality educational resources. For example, we can listen to the lectures of teachers from many famous universities at home and abroad through the Internet. However, online courses also have some disadvantages. First, students may lack face-to-face communication with teachers and classmates to ask questions and get immediate feedback in class. In addition, online courses can be more challenging for some students who may struggle with self-discipline and self-motivation.

In terms of improvements, I recommend that universities provide more opportunities for interaction and participation in online courses. In addition, I hope that universities can provide more resources and support for students with online learning difficulties. In conclusion, with some tweaks and improvements, online courses can be an effective tool for learning and education. Therefore, online courses are a new trend that we should embrace.

2) 大学生可以为社区提供的服务

Directions: Suppose the student union of your university is organizing an online discussion on college students doing community service. You are to write an essay on its benefits and the service you can provide to the community. You will have 30 minutes for the task. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

As a college student, there are many volunteer services that we can offer to our community. Here are some examples of how we can get involved and make a positive impact: On the one hand, we can organize or participate in community cleanup events to beautify our local parks, roads, beaches, and other public spaces since cleaner environment benefits everyone!

On the other hand, there are many senior citizens who may need help with household chores, grocery shopping, or just want someone to talk to. By volunteering our time and offering assistance, we can show them that they are not alone and bring joy to their lives.

Overall, there are countless ways for college students to provide volunteer services to community. Volunteering not only benefits the individuals we are helping but also provides us with an opportunity to develop valuable skills, meet new people, and make a positive impact on the world around us.

3) 与同学保持温暖友好关系

Directions: Suppose the student union of your university is organizing an online discussion on interpersonal relationships. You are to write an essay on ways to maintain a warm and friendly relationship with your classmates and on the benefits of such a relationship. You will have 30 minutes for the task. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

Maintaining warm and friendly relationships with classmates is essential for both personal growth and academic success. Here are some effective ways to achieve this: Firstly, make an effort to communicate regularly with your peers outside of class. Take the initiative to organize group study sessions or social outings to get to know your classmates better. Secondly, be willing to lend a helping hand when your classmates need assistance. This could involve sharing notes, explaining concepts, or offering a listening ear. Thirdly, practice empathy towards your classmates by taking the time to understand their perspectives and experiences. There are numerous benefits to cultivating positive relationships with one's peers. A supportive social circle can provide a sense of belonging and reduce feelings of isolation or anxiety. Working collaboratively with classmates on assignments or projects can lead to improved academic performance and critical thinking skills.

Beyond graduation, these relationships can also develop into valuable professional connections and networking opportunities. In conclusion, maintaining warm and friendly relationships with one's classmates requires intentional effort and investment of time but is well worth it in terms of personal growth, academic success, and future career opportunities.

1) 介绍最近读的书

As Bacon said, some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed, and some few to be chewed and digested. As far as the classics I have been reading lately, the one that I think is most worth chewing and digesting is Jane Eyre.

The story centers on a woman named Jane Eyre. Jane was a poor orphan with an unpleasant life in her childhood, but her intelligence distinguished herself at Thornfield, where she worked as a governess. Her true love with Edward Rochester made her bravely reject other people's proposal even after being deceived by Rochester. Finally Jane came back to Rochester who was disabled. What a powerful and independent woman she is!

After understanding the story in depth, readers will become more aware of the infinite possibilities of women. Feminism is a word that attracts women in all ages. In my opinion, women will be respected if they respect themselves. They should have the courage to depend on their own power. Only the power from their deep heart can really make women beautiful and confident.

A Lecture about How to Become a Good Writer

On June 2, Professor Wang, a famous scholar, gave a successful lecture on how to become a good writer to students in the Lecture Hall which was crowded with feverish students who were eager to have an interaction with Professor Wang throughout the lecture.

Professor Wang started his lecture with a provocative question—what a writer is? Then he described his early life, which contributed a lot to his creations. Finally, combining the personal experience with his profound understanding of the mission of a writer, he concluded his lecture with several suggestions on how to become a good writer.

The lecture inspired sparks and enthusiasm among students who are fascinated with literature. Li Hua, a senior majoring in Chinese Literature, said he felt very excited to see Professor Wang personally and gained much encouragement and inspiration for his future studies.

An Account and Summary of a Career Planning Seminar

Recently I attended a career planning seminar. This seminar mainly discussed the importance of career planning and told us as college students how to plan our careers.

Through this career planning seminar, I realized that it's essential to have a career plan, because it helps us make effective career decisions and respond timely to new opportunities, and keeps us focused on our career goals. Besides, I also got some essential career planning strategies. I understood that I can set short-term goals and long-term goals for my career, and by achieving those realistic, achievable, time-bound short-terms goals can I realize my long-term dream step by step.

From this career planning seminar, I really gained a lot and began to think about my future and my life seriously.

1) The necessity for college students to develop their social ability

It's no secret that college students can't avoid a lot of socializing during and after school. Therefore, it is necessary for us college students to develop our social skills. Here's why.

First of all, college students can grow up quickly through socializing. Through the exchange of ideas, we can get help from all sides, so as to learn lessons and make up for our own defects and deficiencies. Secondly, with the guidance of those who came before us, we can cut corners. We college students will inevitably encounter obstacles during the school years, and these problems can be effectively avoided by communicating with others and asking others for advice with an open mind. Last but not least, through socializing, we can know and participate in various things happening on campus and in the society, which is conducive to our better integration into the society after graduation.

Therefore, social ability is a necessary ability for every college student to develop, and we urgently need to cultivate and develop our own social ability.

Nowadays, all colleges and universities pay great attention to the quality education of students, among which, school physical education as an important content and means of quality education, plays a very important role in the success of students.

To begin with, physical exercise can strengthen students' will and cultivate the quality of never giving up. This is because that sport generally has the characteristics of hard work, tension, and strong resistance, and when people participate in physical exercise, they are accompanied by strong emotional experience and will. At the same time, sport not only requires strong physical conditions, but also scientific tactics, strategies and keen observation. Therefore, Physical exercise is helpful to the cultivation of observation and thinking ability.

In a word, physical exercise is essential to the success of college students by cultivating their will and improving their thinking ability.

As college students are in their golden age and bright future is waiting for them, they must live a healthy life and build a solid base for their health. Here are some tips.

First, set aside time for physical activity. You can find a sport you enjoy and set a realistic goal. Then try to achieve your goal by yourself or with a friend. You can record your every bit of progress, which brings you more encouragement.

Second, eat well. Do your best to resist the temptation of junk food such as milk tea, fried chicken and roast meat. You don't have to eat perfectly every day, but as long as you're making healthy choices most of the time, you're on the right track.

Third, get enough sleep. Adults need 7~8 hours per night on average. The best way to ensure you get the right amount of sleep is to fix the time for going to the bed and waking up. Reducing your screen time before sleeping is helpful.

All in all, college students' life is filled with unhealthy temptations and only with self-discipline can you lead a healthy lifestyle.

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing to apply for participating in the rural volunteer teaching program. I have always wanted to be a volunteer teacher, so please consider my application.

I made this decision for the following reasons. First of all, this program is of far-reaching social significance, because it helps rural students broaden their horizons and knowledge. If I can put my energy and love into this cause, I will realize the value of my life and feel very honored. Secondly, I think it's a good chance to practice what I have learned in college. In addition, as a person who loves students and is highly responsible, I believe that my advantages will play a positive role in my future volunteer teaching work.

I am looking forward to this volunteer job very much, so please seriously consider my application.
Best wishes!

Your sincerely,

Li Ming

To improve the students' learning atmosphere and facilitate their studies, as a college student from this university, I propose that the university and library staff should enhance the service of our library.

Many ways can contribute to this. On the one hand, the book collection in the library is already old and out-of-date. What our university needs to do is to buy more new academic books and journals. This method enables students to keep up with the latest knowledge in all fields. On the other hand, all the readers should be required to strictly abide by library rules and regulations, because only in this way can we create a good learning atmosphere.

A proposal to Student Union

As we all know, students today are confronted with more and more physical and mental pressure as the pandemic still threatens the health and safety of everyone, so I propose that our Student Union organize more extracurricular activities to enrich students' campus life and improve the situation.

First, we can organize more traditional culture-related activities, such as the calligraphy competition, Chinese ink and wash painting exhibition, concert of traditional musical instruments, Chinese clothing show, etc. With these activities, our traditional culture gets carried forward and students' inner world will be enriched.

Second, we can hold more sports activities besides those regular sports meets, for example, we can introduce some square dance. With those activities that everyone can join in, students even without sport talent will be more active and enthusiastic to work out and everyone can be physically healthier.

That's what I propose. Hope you can think about it and we work together for a healthier and more colourful campus life.

A proposal for improving services

Dear school leaders,

In order to improve the convenience of medical treatment for students in school, as a sophomore, I propose that the services provided by our school clinic should be improved.

The suggested details are as followings. First and foremost, considering the uncertainty about when students will get sick, the school clinic should arrange a 24-hour duty system to ensure that students are provided with treatment at any time. Second, according to some friends, the school hospital lacks some common medicines, so that they have to go to the pharmacy off-campus to buy medicines at higher prices. Therefore, I propose that the school hospital increase the types and quantities of medicines in reserve.

I look forward to seeing the school hospital become better and better, providing timely help to students, and sincerely hope my proposal could be adopted.

I sincerely hope my suggestion can be adopted.

2) Directions: Suppose your school is organizing an orientation program (新生训练; 新生练习) to help the freshmen adapt to the new environment and academic studies. You are now to write a proposal, which may include its aim, duration, participants and activities.

An Orientation Program for Freshmen

Freshmen are about to start a new chapter in their college life. Transition from high school to college life will be a hard time at the beginning. With the purpose of helping them to adapt to the new life and academic studies of college quickly and avoid losing themselves, our university is planning to organize an orientation program.

The program, which is hold by the student union, will last two weeks. All the new students are required to attend. During this time, many activities will be hold including military training which is a tradition. Also, freshmen are going to take part in some lectures which are about the history of our university, helping them know better about the place where they are going to spend four years. Apart from those activities, we will also organize many interesting activities that can involve both entertainment and study. At the end of this program, we will hold an award party to commend those advanced individual groups. Most of all, they can make many friends during those activities.

Hope all the freshmen can take part in our program actively and I am sure they can find their own way to adapt to the wonderful life of college.

3) 关于回收二手书籍的报告

It is not uncommon that when senior students graduate from university, most of their used books which are still in good condition are probably thrown away. What a great waste it is! In order to avoid this kind of waste and make full use of used books, the Students' Union of our university has organized the special project of collecting used books on campus. We are pleased that the project has received warm welcome and strong support from the students. All the members of the Students' Union give ours sincere thanks to you.

For nearly two weeks since the start of the project, we have received more than 1000 books and we have classified them carefully according to the subjects. We plan to donate part of these books to our library, and part of them to students in need. We will have a small booth on our campus on Saturday, 18th December, and any students who want some used books can come and select. We are looking forward to your participation and your contribution to the recycling of books.

Is technology making people lazy?

Recently, the topic of the impact of technology has been brought into focus. According to a recent survey conducted by CCTV, a high proportion of 84.7 percent of people admitted that technology had great influence on their life and they couldn't live without it.

There is no denying that technology enjoys many advantages. For example, the Internet enables people to know the latest news all over the world. However, it also brings its own problems. For one thing, the technology is making people lazier. For example, they will buy food online instead of cooking at home. For another, some young people who are addicted to social networking websites or online games isolate themselves in their virtual world and are too lazy to communicate with people in the real world.

In brief, taking into account all of these factors, we may reach the conclusion that the Internet poses both opportunities and challenges to our modern life. Only by making reasonable use of it can we benefit considerably.

Do Violent Video Games Increase Aggression?

With the development of the Internet and technology, video games are becoming increasingly popular among people especially the youngsters. However, it is a controversial issue that has raised wide public concern.

In my view, we should hold a cautious attitude toward some of the violent video games. On the one hand, there is no denying the fact that playing video games during the leisure time can make people relaxed. But on the other hand, we have to admit that there are some potential problems with some of the video games. With the help of special effect in video games, violent elements in video games are more and more thrilling for the players. In my opinion, those elements of violence could have some bad influences on people, especially children and then contribute to the violence in society.

Considering all those elements, in order to provide a better environment for the youngsters, I suggest that we should set up a violence rating system on violent video games, so people will know which level of violence they are accessing to.

Are people becoming addicted to technology?

In this digital era technology seems to be a part of our lives since we rely on it when working or studying or even enjoying ourselves. People in mounting numbers find it difficult to live without technology, especially the internet access. For example, we can see everywhere that people watch short videos one after another for a long time, click their social software every few minutes, read e-books all day long without looking up from their screens. Once without the internet access, they don't know what to do and will possibly be anxious, panic and impatient with everything.

Numerous studies claim that addiction to technology has the same effect on the brain as drug addiction. Therefore, we must do something to prevent this trend from worsening. First of all, we must develop some helpful hobbies such as reading, dancing, singing, etc. which can enrich our lives when there is no internet access.

1) changes in education

Recently, the topic of the change in the way of education has been brought into focus. According to a recent survey conducted by China Daily, a high proportion of 56.6 percent of students admitted that they had attended online courses before.

There is no denying that E-learning enjoys many merits. For instance, it has made it possible for students to study whenever and wherever they want. For example, an undergraduate can even listen to lectures in his pajamas in the dormitory. However, wonderful as it is, it also brings some problems. Without a teacher's supervision, a young student can easily be distracted. He may constantly remove his eyes from the course and focus on the tempting websites instead.

In brief, taking into account all of these factors, we may reach the conclusion that the changes in education brought great convenience to us. Only by making reasonable use of them can we benefit considerably.

2) changes in transportation

Recently, the topic of the changes in the way of transportation has been brought into focus. According to a recent survey conducted by China Daily, a high proportion of 56.6 percent of students admitted that .

There is no denying that new kind of transportation enjoys many advantages. For example, transportation apps like Didi have brought consumers great convenience in travelling, because they have made it possible for people to go around without the trouble of waiting in a line for a bus or a taxi. However, they also bring their own problems. For instance, they pose a threat to the passengers 'safety.

Many ways can contribute to improving the safety of the new transportation. For one thing, what the consumers need to do is to equip themselves with higher awareness of security. This method enables them to avoid any potential dangers. For another, the government should impose more rigid safety standards on new way of transportation to add to the safety of people.

3) changes in communication

Recently, the topic of the changes in the way of communication has been brought into focus. According to a recent survey conducted by CCTV, a high proportion of 84.7 percent of people admit that they frequently use social networking websites such as Wechat and Weibo to communicate.

There is no denying that those new kinds of communication enjoy many advantages. For example, they enable users to contact with old friends as well as make new friends. However, they also bring their own problems. For one thing, using them increases the risk of leaking personal information. 1) Part I Writing (30 minutes)

Directions: For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write an essay on online dictionaries. You can start your essay with the sentence "Online dictionaries are becoming increasingly popular." You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

The increasing popularity of using online dictionaries has aroused a heated discussion as to its benefits and drawbacks. Views on the topic vary greatly among people from different walks of life. Some believe that it is convenient for looking up new words but others believe that it does more harm than good. On the one hand, an online dictionary is lighter than a traditional dictionary and it saves time.

Instead of carrying a thick dictionary around, all you need to do is download an online dictionary on your phone. And a tap on the screen will rescue you from awkwardness when coming across a new word. On the other hand, using online dictionaries too much may hinder language learning, especially for students. Looking up words in a traditional dictionary takes time, but it can enhance your memory of the words at the same time. If students rely too much on online dictionaries, they would probably stop learning new words.

From my perspective, it is crucial that companies should update their apps regularly and improve the overall quality. Also, it is high time that people realized that online dictionaries are not only for looking up new words, but for vocabulary learning as well. Only by doing so can people truly enjoy the benefits brought by online dictionaries.

2) Part I Writing (30 minutes)

Directions: For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write an essay on Online libraries. You can start your essay with the sentence "Online libraries are becoming increasingly popular." You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

As the mobile devices get developed gradually, more and more people regard online libraries as their first option. However, people hold different views on the e-libraries. Some believe it is quite convenient for us to read online while others oppose it, for they think it can never be as good as brick and mortar libraries. In terms of the advantages of online library, it is more accessible than the real libraries. Simply take out your mobile devices, and sign in the library, you can borrow the book you want to read. It saves you the trouble of transporting yourself to the library, and lifts you from the toil of carrying the heavy paper books.

Besides, you can get notices from the e-libraries which remind you of the expiration date so you will never forget to return it. However, online libraries do have some demerits. For instance, you always need a WiFi connection to activate it. If you are in some place where wi-fi is not available, online libraries will no longer work. But a paper book will never fail you. Besides, reading online means you are more easily to be distracted, while it is the physical libraries that provide you a tranquil environment for you to focus on your reading.

In a nutshell, online libraries are designed to make reading more convenient. But sometimes readers cannot make the best of it. Therefore, it is we readers ourselves who should take the advantage of the online libraries and make it a helper for our life.

3) Part I Writing (30 minutes)

Directions: For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write an essay on the use of PowerPoint(PPT) in class. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

The use of PowerPoint has gained popularity in class nowadays. More and more teachers are using PowerPoint in their classes, no matter in primary schools, high schools or universities. Some students love it, some don't. Indeed, not all teachers, students even parents hold the same opinion, as they focus on the different perspectives of the PPT. For people who love it, they believe PPT serves as a useful tool in class. PPT can present knowledge in a clarified way and students no longer need to recognize the handwriting of their teachers as some teachers do have terrible handwriting.

And for teachers, PPT also rescues them from writing on the blackboard, which is sometimes a heavy work. Besides, PPT can be saved and copied for students to review after class. But for people who prefer the traditional class, they think PPT can never replace the blackboard. As when having class with PPT, students have less time taking notes. Meanwhile, some teachers say preparing PPT is very time-consuming and not efficient at all. Some parents, especially parents of primary students, are strongly against PPT for they regard PPT as a digital product that damages the eyesight of their kids.

To sum up, PPT does have strengths and weaknesses. But I believe it brings so much convenience for us that we can ignore the few weakness it has. And when using it, we can still take the blackboard as an aid so as to present the class in the best way.

1) the use of translation app

The use of translation app is becoming increasingly popular, which has become an essential part in people's life, especially among people who are learning English and other languages. Just as a coin has two sides, translation apps also have their advantages and disadvantages.

On the one hand, translation apps have made language learning much more convenient and can help people who do not speak the same language communicate smoothly. On the other hand, because the app can translate, many people are not willing to learn to improve their language ability. Besides, the translation given by many translation app is full of grammatical errors, which is bound to seriously mislead people's learning and communication.

Translation apps have changed people's life in many ways, but they also lead to some negative consequences. People should discern good from bad when using translation apps and use them reasonably and flexibly. Only in this way can translation apps better serve people and not the other way around.

Dear Tom,

On hearing that you are planning to teach English in China and ask me to recommend a city, I'd like to recommend our capital city, Beijing, an international metropolis.

The reasons why I recommend Beijing can be listed as follows. First of all, there are a lot of English-speaking foreigners in Beijing, which helps you adapt to life here very quickly. Furthermore, as the capital of several dynasties, Beijing has a profound cultural background, so you can better experience the extensive and profound traditional Chinese culture. Most importantly, parents in Beijing, an international metropolis with many multinational companies, attach great importance to their children's English learning and many people who work in multinational companies also need to learn English.

I truly hope that you can come to Beijing to start your teaching life and I'm looking forward to your arrival. If you have any question about the city, please feel free to contact me for further information.

Yours sincerely,

Li Ming

Dear Tom,

On hearing that you are planning to learn Chinese in China and ask me to recommend a place, I'd like to recommend our capital city, Beijing, an international metropolis.

I recommend Beijing to you because of the following reasons. First of all, there are a lot of English-speaking foreigners in Beijing, which helps you adapt to life here very quickly. Furthermore, as the capital of several dynasties, Beijing has a profound cultural background, so you can better experience the extensive and profound traditional Chinese culture. Last but not least, with many people understand and master both Chinese and English, Beijing has a good bilingual atmosphere. It is good for you to improve your Chinese. You could communicate with local people in Chinese as much as possible because practice makes perfect.

I truly hope that you can come to Beijing and learn Chinese here. I'm looking forward to your arrival. If you have any question about the city, please feel free to contact me for further information.

Yours sincerely,

Li Ming

Dear Tom,

I was so delighted to receive the letter from you. On hearing that you are planning to study in China, I decide to write you a letter to recommend a university. My recommendation is Xiamen University, which is one of the most outstanding universities in China.

The reasons why I recommend this university can be listed as follows. First of all, Xiamen University is located in a coastal city, Xiamen, which has beautiful and attractive seaside scenery. If you study here, you can have a walk and breathe the fresh air at the end of the day's study. How comfortable and enjoyable! More importantly, Xiamen University has a high reputation for its academic contributions to China and the world.

1) Directions: For this part you are allowed 30 minutes to write a news report to your campus newspaper on a visit to a local farm organized by your Student Union. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

In order to help us students to enrich life and broaden horizon, the Student Union organized a meaningful activity on last weekend--visiting the local farm, by which we grasped much useful knowledge about agriculture. The farm we visited is located in the suburb of Beijing and far away from our school, which covers an area of 1000 square feet. Along with native foods like rice and potatoes, the farmers on the farm grow many organic vegetables, including corn, cucumbers, tomatoes and so forth. Besides, the farm breeds a host of local species such as dairy cattle, geese, chicken by modern scientific technique. One of the most impressive things for us is that by means of green farming methods, the problem of environmental pollution has been effectively alleviated (减轻, 缓解). This outdoors activity has a really deep impression for us. Not only did it get us closer to the nature and relieve pressure from us, it also enhance our professional knowledge about husbandry (耕种) technology.

On June 14, Friday, a volunteer activity where many students took an active part in visiting the local Nursing House was organized by the Student Union and it turns out to be a big success.

The activity was aimed at encouraging students to visit the elderly at the Nursing House and help elderly people deal with their troubles both physical and psychological. Many students volunteered to participate in this good deed and were engaged in helping the elderly here out by making their meals, washing their clothes and chatting with them. When asked about those volunteers' feelings about such an experience, all of them responded with a smile, saying "what a wonderful practice and I really appreciate this experience, for it makes me learn to care more for others in need."

All in all, the activity turns out to be a success not only for the visited elderly but for those students involved.

Recently the phenomenon of living in a big city has been brought into focus. With the population of dwelling in a big city increasing dramatically for its convenient infrastructure and higher wage level, the challenges have also aroused more and more concerns among the society.

First of all, the most obvious problem is the issue of traffic. In a big cities, traffic jam is quite common everywhere, especially in the rush time. Consequently, a large number of people have to spend much time in commuting. In the second place, with the growth of cars and buses in big cities, air pollution has become another disadvantage, which may do harm to the health of people. Last but not least, people living in a big city tend to endure more pressure of work and life, which may, directly or indirectly, influence their mental health.

So what will be the possible tendency of this situation in the following decades? From my perspective, the number of people living in a big city will keep increasing owing to the truth that people prefer to enjoy the advantage of big city, however, the disadvantages of it should not be ignored. It would be advisable to prepare yourselves well to meet any challenges in the future.

Being short of entrepreneurial experience is one of difficulties that college graduates need to overcome. In addition, the collection of money is another problem they should solve urgently. Otherwise, there is no possibility of starting a career.

Although starting a career after graduation has so many challenges to be solved, college graduates still need take a positive attitude towards it. Moreover, prudent consideration and entrepreneurial spirit are also necessary for graduates to start a career.

3) Directions: For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write a short essay on the challenges of studying abroad. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

It is well known that due to the booming economy and increasing family income, studying abroad has become an increasingly popular choice for students. Although studying abroad is often praised by people for its advantages, there are still some disadvantages to be noticed.

First of all, to study abroad is expensive. Specifically speaking, those involved have to spend a large amount of money on tuition and living expenses, which is not affordable for everyone. In addition, to study abroad is a great challenge for those students who lack the ability of living independently. If they can not take good care of themselves there, their academic performance will be affected to a large extent. Last but not least, to study abroad may exercise a negative influence on students' mentality. As we all know, to study abroad equals to stay away from family and friends for a long time, which is likely to produce some psychological problems for those students, such as being solitary and gloomy.

From what has been mentioned above, we can easily come to the conclusion that the disadvantages of studying abroad can not be neglected. What's more, those students who are planning to study abroad should make enough preparations for these problems mentioned above. The importance of writing ability and how to develop it

As the most productive and communicative way to express ourselves, writing is attached great importance in all ages. Whether we want to improve our writing skills as a creative writer or simply perfect our skills for schoolwork, we can take some steps to learn how to be a better writer.

Firstly, in order to make our writing creative and imaginative, brainstorming is one of the key elements to build up a unique topic. Don't hesitate to take down all the ideas that come into our mind. Secondly, a good development of our writing is based on a clear structure or paragraph organization. Even a simple outline will help us see the big picture and save us hours of rewriting. Finally, diversity of vocabulary and grammar used in writing is highly recommended for the reason that one of the most common manifestations of bad writing is overuse or reuse of simple language.

To sum up, we should take practice and expand our knowledge to become a great writer. With enough hard work and scientific techniques, we will amaze not only ourselves but also anybody else.

The importance of reading ability and how to develop it.

As the most frequently used way to get access to the original material, reading has always been considered one of the most important parts of language learning. This explains why reading skills should be highly emphasized.

Then how to improve our reading skills? First of all, scan the material before we begin. Whatever the purpose of our reading is, take a few minutes to look the piece over to check and see how the work is structured and presented. Secondly, try not to reach for the dictionary when we come to a word we don't know. Instead, try to guess the meaning of the word based on the context. Last but not least, write a few sentences to summarize what we've read since it is a way of checking that we understand what we're reading.

Above all, reading has important benefits and can help us learn the language faster and more completely, which encourages each language learner to develop their reading skills as suggested.

As we all know, proficiency in speaking is necessary for us to become well-rounded communicators. However, the capacity to put words together in a meaningful way to reflect thoughts, opinions, and feelings is not something we're born with but needs some techniques and practice. Firstly, build confidence and concentrate on getting our message across, which help us gain the attention of the audience return. Secondly, experiment with the things we know well instead of challenging ourselves with difficult words since fluency appears more important during oral communication. Lastly, create some opportunities to practice like narrating our daily life to ourselves or maintaining a regular chat with friends. To sum up, only by being confident enough and using efficient methods can we enhance our speaking ability. Follow the steps to improve our speaking skills in order to achieve a higher standard in communication.

Recent years, the relationship between doctors and patients has been a heated topic. However, with the increasingly serious physician-patient relationship, it is important to find out some ways to solve the problem. Therefore, some measures mentioned below are the most important aspects that we should take into consideration.

On the one hand, it is indispensable that communication between doctor and patients should be strengthened due to the fact that doctor-patient communication can be seen as a bridge of two-way communication between doctors and patients, which is beneficial for them to improve their relationship. As a matter of fact, although sometimes there are some defects in medical infrastructure, patients can make allowance for them friendly for their good relationship. On the other hand, the most important character doctor should have is professional ethics that is the foremost way to gain trust from patients.

All in all, it is high time that both hospitals and patients should take some steps to deal with current poor relationship. Only in this way, can we create a harmonious society.

Boundaries exist in virtually all human relationships, and students-teacher relationships are no exception to this rule. This reality gives rise to the following question: what kind of boundaries can be deemed appropriate in an academic setting? My opinion is that, in general, a relatively formal distance should be kept between professors and their students.

关注公众号：英专生靓仔学长，回复关键词：四六级、专四专八、大英竞赛、领取历年真题、预测卷

One reason to maintain a formal distance between students and teachers is to highlight the instructor's role as an authority figure. This is important so that the professors can enforce discipline, have instructions followed, and command respect from students. Another reason why teachers should maintain a formal students with their students is to avoid real and perceived bias. If the teacher develops close relationships with the students, it may be difficult to completely eliminate bias. Even the impression of bias may cause some students to feel that they have been treated unfairly.

In short, maintaining a formal distance between teachers and students can ensure an atmosphere of authority in the classroom and avoid both real and perceived bias.

I would like to sell some of the course books I used in college, because I'm going to graduate from college soon. The details of these books are as follows.

First of all, those books are a set of professional books used by English majors in our school. They are about American literature, including the history of American literature, introduction of American great writers and some excerpts from great works like the Old man and the Sea by Hemingway. It was also attached with a CD with some native speakers reading those excerpts. What's more, many graduate schools list this set of books as the reference books, so if you want to apply for a master's degree, you can use it not only in the class but also for the postgraduate entrance examination. My books are 80% new and are to be sold at half the price of a new set. Don't miss it!

Stated-owned business or Joint venture

Upon graduation, virtually all college students will confront the problem of the career choice, which is truly a tough choice. Students' opinions differ greatly on this issue. Some hold that there is no better way to get a decent job than working in a stated-owned business which will guarantee my life after retirement, but others take the attitude that a joint venture outweighs any other jobs as it may provide higher income for employees. As to myself, I prefer the latter view. A joint venture, especially a high-salary joint venture, exerts a tremendous fascination on a great number of people, with no exception to me.

Although it might be impossible to make sure my retirement pension is good enough, high-salary is exactly what I need just now. In my view, our career choices largely depend on where we want to stay for the rest of life. For me, metropolis is the place where I can grasp loads of opportunities and achieve my personal dreams.

As I hold the view that live in the moment, not the future, and also in order to finance myself in some aspects such as the transportation, the house-renting, or social activities, a joint venture can satisfy my needs for the consumption I mentioned above. In short, a joint venture is the first and only consideration in my choice of career.

As to myself, I prefer the latter view. An opportunity to start a business exerts a tremendous fascination on a great number of people, with no exception to me.

In my view, With the competition in the job market becoming increasingly fierce for college graduates, some ambitious students have tried their hands at launching their own businesses. Over the years, there have been many successful cases of student entrepreneurship and such attempts should be encouraged and promoted by both the universities and the society at large.

What's more, College students who start businesses are pioneers, among whom will be born China's future business leaders. Faced with unknown challenges, they are audacious enough to embark on a perilous journey while most of their peers enjoy stable salaries by working as white-collars at high-end office buildings. All in all, the essential difference between the students who find a job or those students who create their own businesses is that the former are docile followers whereas the latter are aggressive trailblazers. For this reason, business-launching college graduates are more admirable, and thus they command our deep respect.

As to myself, I prefer the latter view. A higher educational background exerts a tremendous fascination on a great number of people, with no exception to me. This phenomenon that the graduates have difficulties in finding job after their graduation can easily be found anywhere in our daily life, especially on campus.

On the one hand, with the improved high education of Chinese college students which directly brought the result that there are more and more graduates every year. On the contrary, job vacancies don't increase that fast. More people, less food, which is the exact description of the hard condition. On the other hand, more and more people go on to pursue their master and doctor degree; more and more Chinese oversea students come back to China to hunt better working chances. It is sure that the competition is more and more fierce. Therefore, it is high time that we took effective measures to improve our own competitiveness. That is the secret of success in the future employment market after our graduation.

【参考范文】Don't Stop Learning

Learning is a daily experience and a lifelong mission. In other words, learning is significant in our whole life. If you understand it and apply it to your study or work, you'll definitely benefit a lot from it.

Learning can light our road in the coming future. We cannot deny the fact that the society develops increasingly fast and we are often easily surpassed by the people around. The only way to help the situation is to learn to improve ourselves. As an illustration, I'd like to take my sister as an example. After graduation from college, her life has been full of work pressure, which contributes to her decision of pursuing further education. That's why she can make her own way in today's society.

In a word, the effects of learning can be boiled down to two major ones. First, with the spirit of learning, we are more capable of overcoming the difficulties in the future. More importantly, we can enrich our spare time life by learning.

2) Directions: For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write an essay commenting on the saying "Listening is more important than talking". You can cite examples to illustrate the importance of listening. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

【参考范文】Listening Is More Important Than Talking

Just as a research shows, 70% to 80% of our lifetime is spent on certain kinds of communication, such as writing, speaking and listening, among which listening is actually the most important technique.

Then why is it that listening is more important than talking? Firstly, when we make the acquaintance of someone, listening helps us understand him or her better and thus winning friendship. Secondly, knowing the art of listening can facilitate communication and avoid conflicts with people on intimate terms, such as our parents and spouse. Last but not least, if we obey the principle of listening in the workplace, we are more likely to do the right thing and avoid detours.

Therefore/Thereby/Hence, it is safe to say that listening from the bottom of our hearts can bring us a lot of benefits. I would like to quote the legend John Rockefeller's words, which I can't agree more, to end my essay: "A little practice in listening can produce amazing results."

You can cite examples to illustrate the importance of being creative rather than mere onlookers in life. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

【参考范文】The Importance of Participation

There is an old saying that never go out there to see what happens but go out there to make things happen, which is so correct in many cases even today that we should pay enough attention to the importance of participation.

Surely, participation has many advantages. Firstly, it can offer students chances to contact society and make acquaintance with different kinds of people. Only in this way can we gain valuable social experience, which will be useful to our life. Secondly, as college students, we can apply what we have learned to practical life, in order to understand them more clearly. Take the study of spoken English for example, participation in every chance of communication with others in English can enable us to become more fluent in speaking.

In summary, participation is a key factor in our daily life, no matter who you are and what you are doing. Of course, we should put our studies in the first place. Besides, we'd better consider participation as a useful supplement.

【参考范文】The Kid's Understanding of Going to School

As is vividly depicted in the picture, the kid is telling his mother that he does not need to go to school as his phone already knows everything, which illustrates that students nowadays depend on cellphones excessively. From my point of view, although cellphones play an important role in our daily life, it can't replace the role of education.

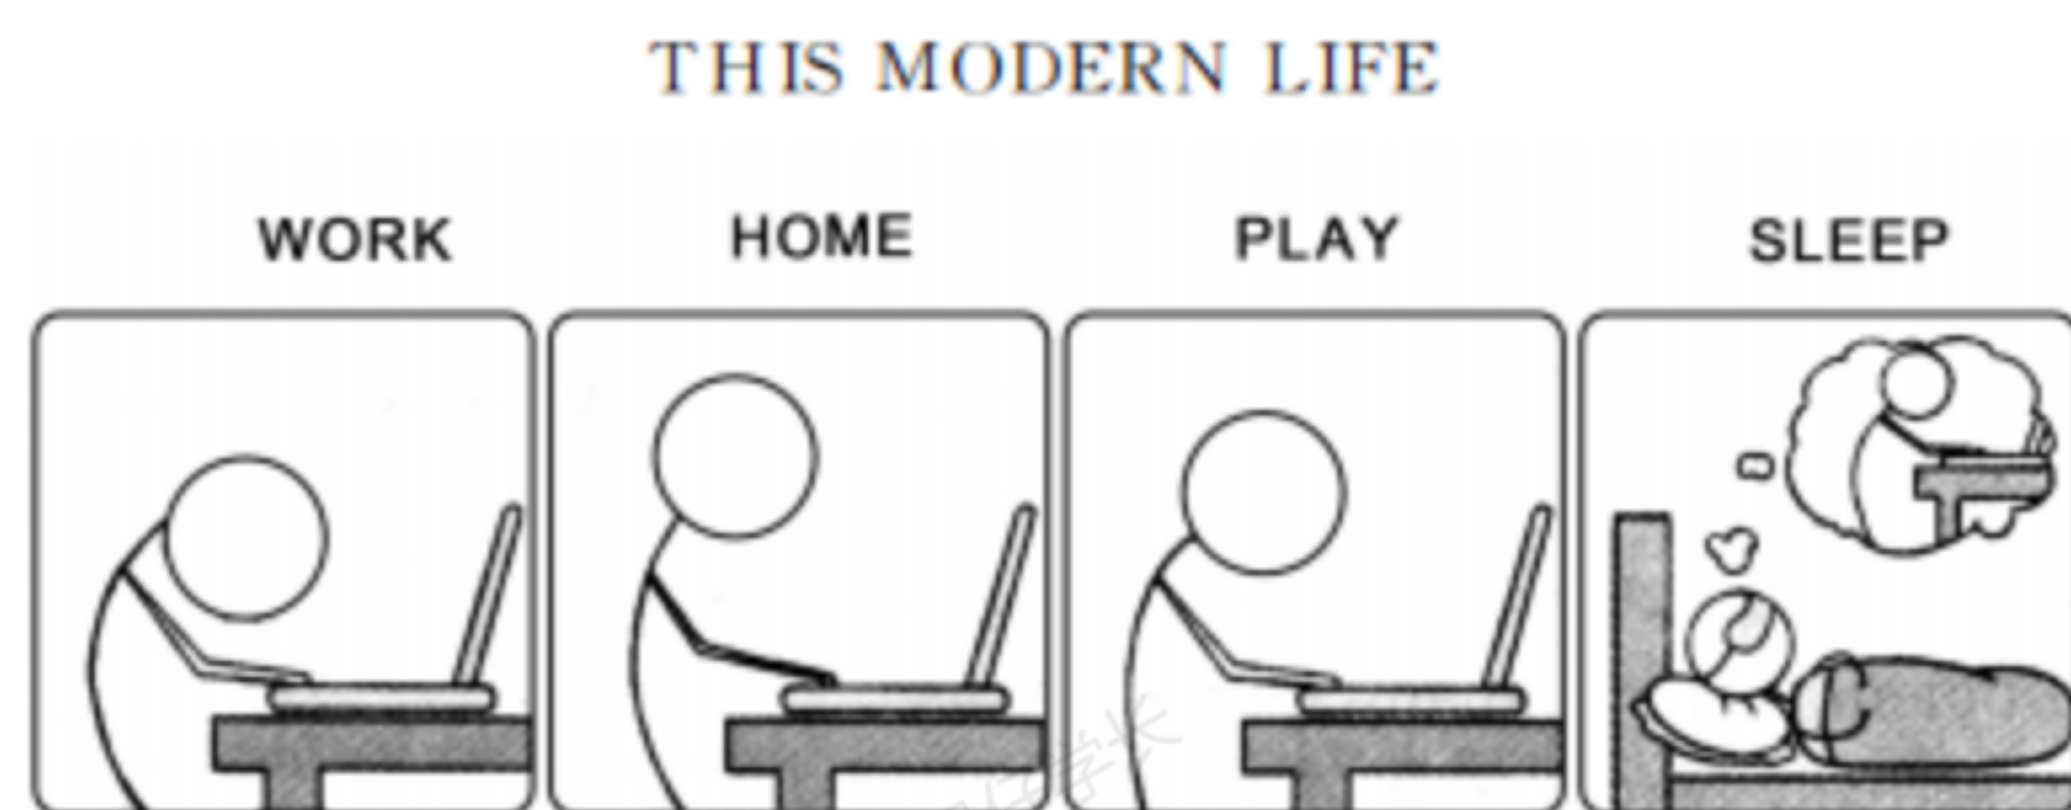

Several reasons account for my argument. To begin with, education plays an essential role in cultivating students' ability in thinking, communicating and solving problems. In addition, students shouldn't ignore the fact that the invention of cellphones depends on knowledge of human beings. Last but not least, another reason why we should accept the education is that it is helpful to develop a sound personality, which we can't acquire from cellphones.

In conclusion, there is no denying that cellphones bring great convenience to our daily life. However, it can't replace the role of education. Therefore, students should hold a rational and objective attitude towards the relationship between cellphones and education.

2) Directions: For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write an essay based on the picture below. You should start your essay with a brief description of the picture and then comment on this kind of modern life. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

【参考范文】The Modern Life

As is vividly depicted in the picture, people nowadays stay with computers in their offices, at home, and in their spare time. Even when they sleep, they can't get computers out of their mind. The picture illustrates the fact that computers have dominated people's life. As far as I'm concerned, however, we can't depend on them excessively.

The reasons why we shouldn't attach much more importance to computers are as follows. For one thing, it is extremely harmful to people's health if they sit in front of computers for a long time. For another thing, obsessed with computers all the time, people have no time to communicate with others face-to-face, which results in isolation.

All in all, we can't deny the fact that computers are of great convenience to our modern life. However, it seems better if people turn off their computers and do some sports at their leisure time. It is high time that we enjoyed the beauty of real life.

【参考范文】The Parents' Role in Children's Growth

As is vividly depicted in the picture, a daughter is telling her mother that she has been admitted to a university as her mother desires. This picture is a faithful reflection of what role parents in China play in their children's growth. Chinese parents are inclined to do everything for their children, which leads to their lack of independence.

The reasons why Chinese parents do that can be concluded as follows. First and foremost, influenced by Chinese traditional culture, we worship collectivism, which automatically gets Chinese people attach more importance to their family. Furthermore, parents unconsciously impose their dream that they don't realize on their children.

What's more, they don't believe that their children have enough ability to deal with their personal matters. To conclude, children, in my view, should be encouraged to make some decisions alone. It is about time that our parents enabled children to acquire the ability to be self-independent. Only in these ways can children grow up healthily, both mentally and physically.
